NEAR DEATH'S DOOR.

General Sherman's Condition Very Critical.

NEARLY ALL HOPE ABANDONED.

The Latest Reports From the Sick Man's Bedside Is That He Is Sinking Rapidly, and Death Is Expected at any Moment

GEN. SHERMAN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—At the residence of Gen. Sherman in the early evening there was some rays of sunshine through the clouds hanging over the old warrior's head. At this time the hopes of the relatives and friends for the life of the general had been revived. His condition was still considered precarious but the success with which he had battled with the enemy during the day was the foundation of the new hope entertained for his recovery.

The improvement began at noon, and in the afternoon he rallied sufficiently to recognize the members of the family and those old friends who were admitted to the sick chamber. At times the general slept as peacefully as a child, but at other moments he sank into an unconscious state, not deep, from which he could be easily aroused by those about him.

During the day two telegrams were received from President Harrison inquiring after the general's condition. These and other telegrams received have not yet been given to the press.

At 6 o'clock in the evening Gen. Thomas Ewing sent the following telegram to the president:

"Family far more hopeful. Some slight evidence of reviving strength."

Gen. Ewing was one of the callers at the West Seventy-first street house during the afternoon. He entered the sick chamber about 5 o'clock, and was greeted by Gen. Sherman with, "Hello, Ewing, is that you?"

A little later he said to his son: "This is only temporary, I will be all right."

Gen. Ewing in speaking of Gen. Sherman's condition said: "The feeling is more hopeful. There is no decided improvement in the symptoms and conditions, but he is not as low as he was in the morning. When roused he is intelligent and free from all hallucinations. But yesterday and to-day he has been much of the time in a state of semi-consciousness. His face is a little discolored, and his neck and back a good deal swollen. He moves with great difficulty and pain. His speech is also difficult."

During the afternoon many persons of prominence called. Among the number were Carl Schurz and Gen. Charles H. T. Collis. Telegrams were constantly arriving, and replies were being sent out, showing the interest of the people in the condition of the last of the three great generals. Every attention is given to the wants of the sick man by skilled nurses and ever-watchful doctors.

The doctor's bulletin at 7:15 yesterday evening was as follows: "Gen. Sherman has lost little strength during the day, and his condition is about the same as in the morning."

During the early part of the evening the condition of Gen. Sherman changed but little. At 8:15 p.m. the general's son issued the following bulletin:

"Gen. Sherman's condition is absolutely unchanged."

Two policemen were stationed in front of the house and prevented any gathering in front of the doors.

Senator Sherman left the house shortly after 8 o'clock, and went to the house of a friend to spend the night.

At 8:30 the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage and Mrs. Talmage called. Fifteen minutes later they came out. Dr. Talmage said that he had found the general in a better condition than he expected. "Gen. Sherman," he said, "is conscious at intervals and recognizes those who are about him. When spoken to, he answers yes or no, but that is the extent of his conversation. After an effort of this kind he relapses into a state of semi-unconsciousness. It is very sad. His family are all hoping for the best, but it seems almost like hoping for the impossible. From present indications I should say there is no likelihood of his demise, within the next twenty-four hours."

At 9 o'clock another bulletin was issued stating that the general was holding his own. His son said that they expected no great or sudden change in his father's condition during the night or during the next twenty-four hours.

At 10 o'clock this bulletin was sent out: "Gen. Sherman slightly better since last bulletin." Mr. Sherman made this statement at the same time he sent out the above bulletin: "My father is resting somewhat easier now. At 11 o'clock the doctors will have another consultation. When they have finished, the house will be closed for the night, and no more bulletins will be issued."

At 10:30 Drs. Alexander and Janeway met in consultation at Gen. Sherman's house. At 11:15 the following bulletin was given out.

"The result of the consultation between Drs. Janeway and Alexander shows that there has been no improvement in Gen. Sherman's condition."

Dr. Janeway left the house as soon as the consultation was ended. Dr. Alexander remained with the distinguished patient until morning. He looked for no change during the night in the general's condition.

At 11:45 o'clock the Rev. Father Matthew A. Taylor, of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, was sent for by some members of the family, and he arrived at the house a few minutes later.

"Very Much Worse."

At 1:15 a.m., a message was sent to John Sherman, saying: "Papa is very much worse. You had better come up." It was signed Sherman.

Senator John Sherman reached the general's house at 2:20 a.m.

Sinking Fast.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Gen. Sherman is sinking fast at 2:30 a.m.

MURDERERS ARRESTED.

Two of the Men That Killed Daniel B. Gilham Locked Up.

ALTON, Ill., Feb. 12.—The murderers of Senator Daniel B. Gilham have been arrested, and two of them are now in the jail at Edwardsville. The two men now in jail are John Brown and H. C. Wyatt. Wyatt was captured in Omaha last week and made a full confession, implicating Brown and a man named George Starkey, who will be arrested at St. Joseph, Mo., to-day.

Brown was arrested here on Friday last while at work. According to the confession of Wyatt, Starkey entered the house while he and Brown stood on guard on the outside. There is general rejoicing over the news of the capture of these men, as Mr. Gilham was one of the prominent men in Madison county and Illinois.

THE COKERS' TROUBLES.

First Bloodshed in Fight Between Two Hungarians.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 12.—All the miners throughout the coke region are idle except at W. J. Rainey's works where work is progressing as usual. Labor officials claim that the men at these works will join the strike within twenty-four hours.

At Hogsett, Ferguson and Tyrone works the drawers are at work, but will quit as soon as the ovens are emptied.

Last night two Hungarians at Fairchance quarreled about the strike. Muzairia struck Kutola on the head with a brick, seriously fracturing his skull. Muzairia then hit Kutola's little girl on the head with a stone, inflicting probably fatal injuries.

Jail Birds Escape.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Feb. 12.—Reddy Burke, indicted for burglary, larceny and arson; William Briggs, indicted for rape; Mike Kelly, indicted for burglary, broke jail here yesterday morning. Burke was captured. The others are still at large. Burke and his party escaped by sawing off the bars of the window the day before, then putting them up until the opportunity was afforded yesterday morning of getting out of the opening thus made. Burke was captured near the Pan-Handle coal yards while attempting to get on a freight train going west. Kelly and Briggs have been heard from on a Pan-Handle freight at Jewett, thirty miles west.

Hidden Cave Discovered.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Feb. 12.—William Hendricks, a farmer of Harrison county, on making a trip through a piece of timber land on his farm, found that a large portion of earth had fallen into a vacuum below. He and his neighbors proceeded to explore the hole. They found that the cave was much larger at the bottom than at the top, and had a perfect floor with no outlet, and though the walls were not perfect they bear the resemblance of having been sealed years ago. Skeletons of human beings and a large number of flint tools were unearthed.

Panic at M. Quarr de B. B. I.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Feb. 12.—Five hundred persons were panic-stricken at a masquerade ball Tuesday night. A boy with a lighted candle set fire to the costume of Otto Krellwitz, which was made of cotton batting. The masker, enveloped in flames, rushed wildly about, setting fire to the clothing of several other persons. Krellwitz was terribly burned.

Case Dismissed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—In the Wabash railway case Judge Woods, of the United States circuit court, has passed upon the intervening petition of Wager Swayne for an allowance of $200,000. The report of the master, which recommended that the allowance be made, was overruled and the intervening petition was ordered dismissed.

A Legislator Suicides.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Feb. 12.—Edward Jackson, an ex-member of the Indiana legislature, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself with a rope. The cause is supposed to be despondency, superinduced by financial matters. The self-murder occurred at the residence of the deceased, at Bright Dearborn county, Ind.

Valuable Gold Discovery.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Feb. 12.—The inhabitants of Florissant, a small town thirty-five miles west of here, are greatly excited over the finding of gold in that vicinity in paying quantities. Experts who have examined the dust taken from the blastings, say the sand will yield $10,000 to the ton.

Fatal Polish Row.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Feb. 12.—A row in a boarding house in this city Tuesday night resulted in the brutal murder of Michael Smith and the fatal injury of Michael Selka, by Walenty Nowak and Son. Both the Nowaks have been arrested. All are Poles.

Snow Blockade Raised.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 12.—A Deadwood, S. Dak., special says: The Burlington and Missouri has raised the snow blockade and brought the first train through from Omaha into Deadwood. The Fremont and Elkhorn has not yet arrived.

IS IT A CONSPIRACY?

The Great Whisky Trust in a Bad Light.

SECRETARY GIBSON ARRESTED.

He is Charged With Conspiring to Blow Up All the Distilleries in the Country Not Belonging to the Trust—Shufeldt's Chicago, Distillery the First One Selected.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—George J. Gibson, secretary of the great whisky trust, was arrested at the Grand Pacific hotel at 6:30 yesterday morning on a charge of conspiracy to blow up all the distilleries in the country not belonging to the trust. Mr. Gibson lives at Peoria, and it is said that he came here for the express purpose of wrecking the Shufeldt distillery in this city. Several attempts have been made to blow up the Shufeldt plant, in one of which young Kunze, of Cronin murder fame, was involved.

It is said that Mr. Gibson tried to bribe government inspector to blow up the Shufeldt distillery and this led to his arrest as he alighted from a carriage in front of the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday morning. In a small satchel, carried by Mr. Gibson was found a number of articles which are said to be positive evidence of his connection with the conspiracy. Mr. Gibson was taken to the United States marshal's office in the government building.

Mr. Gibson's wife and daughter were with him when he was arrested. At a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Hoyne in the afternoon Mr. Gibson waived examination and was held to the Federal grand jury on $20,000 bail. Later in the day he was released. Nelson Morris, the packer, signing his bond in the sum of $20,000. Gibson was also required to attach his own signature.

The conspiracy was worked up through Revenue Inspector T. S. Dewar, who was told guardedly some months ago that Shufeldt's distillery was in the way of the trust and that there was "big money" for the man who succeeded in getting the concern out of the way. Solicitor Hart, of the internal revenue department, who arrived in the city from Washington to take charge of the case, has in his possession the dynamite machine with which the destruction of the Shufeldt distillery was to be effected, and papers closing the contract for the diabolical business. The pacific charge against Gibson is that he tried to bribe Dewar to blow up the Shufeldt plant. All the arrangements had been completed for the fiendish work, when Dewar informed the government officials of the plan and prevented the consummation of the conspiracy.

Inspector Stewart, of the postoffice department, one of the officers who made the arrest, said yesterday afternoon: "I am not at liberty to give the facts in the case, but there is nothing that your imagination can conceive of more diabolical and horrible than the intention of the conspirators. It was nipped just in time, too, for the first blow was to have been struck in Chicago. Then it would have been repeated in other points."

Solicitor General Hart made the following startling statement yesterday evening:

"A short time ago we learned that Mr. Gibson was in correspondence with our gauger, Q. S. Dewar. I came on here, and Dewar revealed to me the proposition made to him by Gibson. Gibson told him that the trust could not get a foothold in Chicago as long as the Shufeldts were located here. The obnoxious distillery must be removed."

Gibson had a perfectly safe plan, he said. Dewar was to get $10,000 cash and $15,000 later, to introduce into the big spirit tank of the distillery, containing thousands of gallons of high spirits, an infernal machine that was fixed to explode at a certain time. The explosion would free the spirits and throw the distillery into a mass of flames. Dewar was led to believe that the machine would give him time to get out of the place alive. But it would not do to let him live. Dewar was to be killed by the explosion, which was to occur one second after he dropped the machine into the vat. One hundred and fifty people who are at work in the place day and night would have been killed.

"The Shufeldts will lose nothing," said Gibson, "because their property is well insured. The government owns the most of it."

Dewar kept up posted and helped to carry the plan to the point, as it turned out to-day. The trap was to be sprung before Sunday. Gibson had the infernal machine here. We have it now in our possession. Our confidence in the gauger was never shaken. He fairly trembled when he was informed that he never would have lived to claim his reward. Our proof, I am sorry to say, is most absolute. The chain of evidence against Mr. Gibson is the strongest ever forged. The officials at Washington are perfectly dazed over the dastardly nature of the conspiracy."

"Who is supposed to be connected with Gibson in this matter?" Mr. Hart was asked.

"We cannot specify now. It is not to be supposed that the secretary of the whisky trust was acting independently in the matter."

Mr. Hart says that, just at present, there will be no more arrests in the case, for although they are certain that there is some one back of Gibson, yet they have no evidence that they can bring against them. The offense with which Gibson is at present charged, is punishable with not more than three years in the penitentiary, but it is thought from the startling details of the plot that a good case of conspiracy to commit murder can be brought against the secretary of the trust. This would yield $10,000 to the ton.

Thomas Lynch, one of the proprietors of the Shufeldt distillery, in an interview said: "Since the last attempted outrage on our property we have received communications from an unknown friend whom we believe is a member of the whisky trust, giving us hints of approaching danger. On Monday last we received brief note giving us definite information of what was coming. It read something like this: 'Look out: an attempt will be made to blow you up either to-morrow (Tuesday), or next day. Of course we paid strict attention to the friendly warning and at once communicated with the authorities. We remained up all Monday night prepared to defend our property and our lives. We fully expected to be blown skyward Tuesday night, and had every preparation made to avert the horrible consequences that might ensue in case there should be a successful explosion."

CLADOGUS UNBROKEN.

ILLINOIS SENATE Held About Her Representation in the Senate.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—The seventy-fourth, seventy-fifth and seventy-sixth ballots for United States senator yesterday resulted: Palmer, 101; Oglesby, 100; Stelle, 3. On the seventy-seventh ballot the Republicans substituted Judge C. J. Lindley, president of the Illinois Farmers' Mutual Benefit association, for Oglesby, and it resulted: Palmer, 101; Lindley, 100; Stelle, 3. The joint assembly then on motion by the Democrats and concurred in by the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association, took a recess until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the joint session in the afternoon the seventy-eighth and seventy-ninth ballot resulted: Palmer, 101; Lindley, 100; Stelle, 3. Claggett is Idaho's Choice.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Feb. 12.—The legislature balloted for United States senator in separate session. In the house Claggett received nineteen votes. The Dubois men declined to vote. In the senate Claggett received nine votes, with nine scattering. In joint session Claggett will have twenty-eight votes, a bare majority.

In South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. Dak., Feb. 12.—The Republicans in caucus last night again decided on Senator Moody as the most available man to lead them on to victory. The last senatorial ballot yesterday resulted as follows: Moody, 68; Kyle, 59; Tripp, 24; remainder scattering.

UNITED MINE WORKERS.

Second Day's Proceedings of the Convention at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 12.—The second day's session of the United Mine Workers of America opened up with a large attendance. The committee on credentials made a full report, seating two more delegates from the Pittsburgh district with the privilege of a voice in the proceedings but no vote. Several committees were announced.

A telegram reading as follows was received from Lucin Sanial, of New York: "Have collected about $100 held subject to the wishes of the convention, with heartiest sympathy for down-trodden miners."

It was resolved to appropriate $500 of this sum for the relief of miners in Alabama and $200 for miners at Wilkinsburg, Pa. A recess was taken to allow the committee time to organize and transact business.

At the afternoon session, Congressman J. J. Jones addressed the convention. He has recently introduced a bill in congress providing that the government shall appoint mine inspectors. His address treated of the advantages which would accrue from such legislation. The convention adopted a resolution asking congress to pass the Jones bill.

Claiming a Large Fortune.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12.—Mrs. John Larkin, wife of a river man, and Mrs. Elizabeth Marquis, wife of a city fireman residing on Mound street, this city, claim to be heirs to a fortune of $4,000,000 left by Lord Ratcliffe of England. The women are sisters, and say their father, Samuel Ratcliffe, who is in his 70th year and resides at Leipsic, O., claims Lord Ratcliffe as his great great grandfather, and says he is the only living relative, so far as he can learn, between himself and the British lord. Active measures are being taken toward securing the estate.

One Woman Kills Another.

SUMMER, Ill., Feb. 12.—Miss Ethel Bolding, daughter of Wiley Bolding, of Bridgeport, five miles east of this city, shot and probably fatally wounded Mrs. Samuel Rigley. Miss Bolding, who was a guest of Mrs. Rigley, stepped to the bureau, and, opening one of the drawers, found a revolver, which she took, and, pointing it at Mrs. Rigley, said: "Now you must die!" She then fired, the ball entering Mrs. Rigley's neck, lodging in her head, where it still remains. The latter is in a critical condition.

Shot While Asleep.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1891.

THE State Democratic Executive Committee will meet at Louisville on the 19th of this month to take some action in regard to the next State convention.

The friends of the Louisville Times will be glad to learn that Emmett Logan will resume work on that paper soon. He has spent a year in agricultural pursuits.

CYNTHIANA papers are urging Congressman Paynter to press the bill to secure a Government building for that city. It is to be hoped Uncle Sam will not overlook our own fair city when distributing these "plums."

THE Frankfort Capital fires a broadside of press comments at the Con. Con. this week. These comments represent nearly every section of the State, and if they don't bring the delegates to their senses, the case is a hopeless one.

THAT young lady in Connecticut who had the hiccoughs five or six weeks was not lacking for remedies. She received hundreds of letters from all parts of the country, each recommending a different medicine. Truly, we are a sympathetic people.

REPUBLICAN journals have been poking lots of fun at Jerry Simpson, the sockless Congressman from Kansas. His appearance and action show that Jerry is no fool, if he doesn't wear socks. He is using his influence to help elect a Democratic Senator in Illinois and the indications are he will succeed.

THAT scheme of Congressman Wilson, the only Republican Representative from Kentucky, to divide the State into two U. S. Circuit Court districts doesn't meet with much favor. It is intimated, and believed by many, that his principal object is to create a few more offices that would prove nice soft places for some of his political friends.

THE Ohio Legislature has passed a bill changing the time for the election of Common Pleas Judges in Clermont, Brown and Adams counties by extending the term of the present Judge, elected in 1887, to 1893, so as to make the times of Judicial elections uniform. The Legislature has also passed a bill authorizing the Brown County Commissioners to construct a free turnpike.

THE Constitutional convention has at last disposed of the chapter on Circuit Courts. It differs but little from the present system. One section provides that "at the first session after the adoption of this Constitution the General Assembly, having due regard to business, territory and population, shall divide the State into a sufficient number of judicial districts, to carry into effect the provisions of the article, not to exceed one district for each sixty thousand of population, excluding counties having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand, provided that no county shall be divided."

MR. CLAY is not an attractive speaker, but he is a very entertaining talker on some subjects. He has made a study of philosophic reasoning, political economy, sociology, governments, history, etc. He has a vast fund of information, and gives him a seat by a fire and a good listener, and he will discourse learnedly and entertainingly on any of the subjects named.—Louisville Post Letter.

What the people of Kentucky want, of course, is a Governor who can sit down before a nice comfortable fire and discourse learnedly and entertainingly on "philosophic reasoning," "political economy," "sociology," &c., especially on "sociology" and "philosophic reasoning."

It is generally understood that Mr. Clay has been "trimming" for the farmer vote, and all he wants to do now is to catch that very important element in the present fight is to deliver a few learned discourses on "sociology" and "philosophic reasoning."

Let's hear from Colonel Brown, Dr. Clardy and General Hardin at once.

WHAT important news some of the big journals receive from Europe now-a-days! The Daily Continent in glancing over the other New York papers recently, made the discovery in their European correspondence that Kaiser William drank a glass of beer at the expense of Dr. Miguel, his Minister of Finance, on a certain night; that a gaiety girl danced at a ball in London without any stockings on; that the Queen of Italy went to a show in Rome the other night and didn't like it; that Queen Victoria invited Sir Arthur Sullivan to dine at Windsor, and offered to pay for the cigars; that Minister and Minister Whitelaw Reid took tea at a new Paris cafe, and that the Czar of Russia was not assassinated on Wednesday afternoon between the hours of five and six.

The Continent remarks that when Mr. Cyrus W. Field reads such interesting foreign dispatches as these he must be glad he laid the cable.

GOT AN ELEPHANT ON THEIR HANDS.

The Board of Education at Flemingsburg has got an elephant on its hands.

The old school building was torn down last spring, and work was begun on a larger house, to cost $25,000 and to be completed by fall. September came and the building was not finished. However, a building was rented, and school was opened at the usual time, with George O. Willett, of Shiloh, Ohio, and seven assistants in charge, the contract calling for a nine months' term.

The new house is not yet finished, and there is no telling when it will be. In addition to their trouble over the building the Board was confronted a few days ago by the stern fact that their treasury was empty. With no funds on hand they decided to close the school, and cut down expenses, and so notified the teachers and scholars. The Faculty flocked, and served notices on the members of the Board to appear and show cause why the school should not go on. The Trustees and pupils failed to appear, and the teachers waited until noon and then went home. Again, after dinner, they rang the school-bell, and proceeded as though the scholars were present. It is said the Trustees will not give in to the demands of the teachers for pay for three months more, and the teachers say they will continue to hold school, although they have no pupils.

FOR THE FARMER

Bob Tarr, of Bourbon, sold 24 yearling and two-year-old mules at $106.50 per head.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald bought the three-year-old black colt, Mat Clair, by Dark Night, at Lexington, for $175.

The Millersburg correspondent of the Bourbon News says: "Leer Bros. sold 27,000 pounds of tobacco to J. H. Arthur at 10; Thomas, Ball & Co. bought T. H. Collier's at 10; Bob Chanslor's at 10; John McNamara's at 10; Thomas Beeding's at 10; Silas Cleaver's at 10. This firm has bought 300,000 pounds, all told."

Says the Western Tobacco Journal: "The continued high prices prevailing in the market centers no doubt have given buyers the courage to purchase at prices ruling, and the heavy increase in the consumption of burley by manufacturers in 1890 has compelled them to seek the markets for the supplies they now need and in the near future, and the scarcity of good color leaf in either old stock or new receipts make them anxious bidders for all such and anything approximating to their requirements in this particular. We have heard several extensive buyers and keen observers say that good color fillers, either bright or red, will advance and be firm all the year through, as they are not in the crop in the quantities desired."

THE WIFE.

Daniel Frohman sends us Belasco and DeMille's "The Wife," on Wednesday, February 28. This comedy had an uninterrupted run at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, the entire of last year. One can easily understand the great popularity of this piece in the larger theatrical centers. The story is dramatic in its incidents, and such as appeals to the better elements of human nature. The story is of a nature political, and runs through the various incidents of an administration.

From Newport, in the opening scene, one is later transported to Washington, where the struggle for a political appointment involves the domestic relations. Instead of seeing the humiliation of the woman the audience sees the noble treatment extended her by two silent sufferers. The play is intensely interesting and not in the least improbable. There is a healthful and natural vein of humor running through it.

RIVER NEWS.

Plenty of water at Pittsburg, but there is not much coal ready for shipment.

The river lacks but a few feet of being as high as it was last week, and it is still rising, slowly.

Captain J. N. McCullough, who died in Pittsburg a few days ago, was worth from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Steward Tom Nolin, of the Sherley, started to leave the boat at the Fifth ward grade the other night and jumped into four or five feet of water. He escaped with a thorough ducking from his waist down.

HERE AND THERE.

Mr. Will Simpson, of Cincinnati, is up on a visit to his father.

Mrs. Ann Curley, of Cincinnati, has returned home after a visit to Mrs. T. J. Curley. She was accompanied by Master Harry Curley, who will spend some time with her.

I HAVE a cousin who is a printer, says Ex-Mayor J. Loughran, of North Des Moines, Ia. Some time ago he was employed in this city where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep seated cold and terrible cough, and while setting up copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured him and that was the first I ever knew of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have been strongly in its favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that this remedy is the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think. EVEN FRACTURE BY AN EARTHQUAKE.

The postal inspector's offices are on the fourth story of the appraiser's building, and are lighted by folding windows that reach almost to the floor. In each sash is a single pane of extra heavy American plate glass, 36 inches in length by 18 inches wide. During the recent severe earthquake shock one pane was broken by the oscillation of the building, and in such a peculiar manner that it became an object of general interest. There were four fractures extending entirely across the pane, starting from each corner and forming an angle at each edge, leaving a perfect square in the middle surrounded by six half squares.

The fractures are as straight as though cut with a diamond and straightedge, and the proportions of each section as true as though laid out with mathematical instruments. The jar of the earthquake seems to have thrown a heavy pressure upon the corner of the sash, and the glass, unable to bear the strain, gave way; but by what law of mechanics it broke in such regular lines and mathematical proportions is a puzzle to all who have seen it. It is proposed to remove the whole sash, and place it in the State museum as one of the most remarkable earthquake freaks on record. —San Francisco Examiner.

A HERO INDEED.

There is a man in Atchison who is a hero, though if you should call him one he would scarcely know what the word meant. His wife recently died and left him with eight children. He labors hard by the day and manages his housework after night. After doing a hard day's work he will begin the family washing, to be finished and hung on the line next morning, the ironing to be done the second night. He could not afford a sewing woman, so he has by constantly trying learned to run a machine and cut and fit.

The oldest girl is growing up, and will be a great help to him in a few years. His little children are sent to school every day, and they appear as neatly and comfortably dressed as any in the school. He did not scatter his family among his relatives nor send them to an orphan asylum. He kept them together, and their home is almost as comfortable as it was when the mother was alive. He is a hero, and the greatest kind of a hero, from the fact that he does not realize that he is a hero at all.—Atchison Globe.

ABOUT MEN'S PRESENTS.

Various facts became evident during the holidays. One was that a rule followed by ninety-nine men out of a hundred existed in these words: "When in doubt give a doll." Another was that, even if the average man began to procure his Christmas presents now for the 25th of December next, midnight of the 24th of that month would find him with his most important gifts still unbought; and unused gifts are as useless as unloved kisses. A third fact brought home was that no woman was ever wholly satisfied with the presents she got. If they were for her baby they were not good enough; if they were for herself she had others like them. Five women met accidentally in a car the day before New Year's; they were all going to exchange Christmas presents, and they all got off when the conductor called Fifteenth street.—New York Sun.

DARTMOUTH'S HOSPITAL.

Mr. Hiram Hitchcock, of New York, has endowed a hospital in memory of his late wife, Mary Hitchcock. It is being erected at Hanover, N. H., and will offer opportunities for clinical study to the students in the medical department of Dartmouth college. The hospital will be less than half a mile from the college, and will stand in a park of fifteen acres, on a site overlooking part of the Connecticut valley. Any patient not suffering from infectious disease will be eligible for admission, and it is believed that the professional staff will be made up of physicians from the town and the college. The hospital will probably be ready for occupancy during the coming autumn, and will be so liberally endowed financially as to do away with the necessity of soliciting outside assistance.—Harper's Bazaar.

GEN. FISK'S BEQUESTS ALL PAID.

The administratrix of the estate of the late Gen. Clinton B. Fisk (Mrs. Fisk) has paid all the subscriptions made by the general to various colleges, theological seminaries and other institutions of the church, and has, we learn from the trustees of Drew seminary, paid a large subscription on which there was no legal claim, the general not having signed the book. We also learn that the corporation of Fisk university has decided to erect a memorial chapel, to be named the Clinton B. Fisk Memorial chapel, with the $25,000 bequeathed by the general to the university and paid by the administratrix.—Christian Advocate.

That this has been a disastrous season for theatrical companies every actor and manager will admit. One hundred and ninety-two companies have so far returned to New York. Of course they came back dead broke, for no company would return if there was a ghost of a chance that they would ever play to a paying audience.—New York Letter.

The government now owns but one steel 8-inch breech loading rifle and one steel breech loading 10-inch rifle. These are at the Sandy Hook proving ground, and have not yet been fired to ascertain how far they will carry.

Dr. J. W. Bergen, Petersburg, Ind.—Dear Sir:

I have been a sufferer from Asthma since 1873. I began the use of "Bergen's Asthma Cure" last June. The first week or two after I began using the "Cure" I felt quite well, but of course I did not feel as well as I did at first, but in the last six weeks I have not felt an asthmatic symptom. I now sleep soundly. After all these years of search for relief I can now say "Eureka." Respectfully yours,

COUNTY JUDGES

The Court of Appeals Construes the Liability to Wards Whose Estates Are Lost.

A Courier-Journal special from Frankfort says the Court of Appeals, in a lengthy opinion by Judge Bennett, has decided an important case touching the responsibility of County Judges for their failure to hold guardians to a strict account for the money or property in trust for their wards. There were two cases of the same kind under consideration by the court, one styled Samuel A. Morris vs. Gowdy's Administrator, from Taylor County, and the other Cosby & Boyd vs. McFarland, from Graves. The same points of law governed both cases.

McFarland sued Cosby & Boyd as the sureties on the official bond of the County Judge of Graves County, seeking to hold them responsible for the estate that went into the hands of the guardian of McFarland. The estate was lost, it is alleged, and recovery could not be had by reason of the insolvency of both guardian and the sureties, and suit was instituted against the County Judge's sureties, upon the ground that the County Judge did not properly perform his duty in making annual inquiries into the solvency of the guardian's sureties, and, there being cause to believe that these sureties were insolvent, to cause the guardian to give additional surety. Section 14, Article 1, Chapter 48, General Statutes, upon which McFarland relied, is as follows:

The court shall annually inquire into the solvency of sureties for guardians; and, if at any time it has cause to believe that the sureties of a guardian are insolvent or in failing circumstances, it shall, after summoning the guardian, require him to give additional surety.

The court says: * * * "Now, the question is, are the Judge and his sureties on his official bond liable to the ward for the neglect of the Judge to annually inquire into the solvency of the guardian, and to require additional surety, if he has cause to believe that the sureties are insolvent, etc., whereby, in either case, a loss ensues to the ward."

It seems that, by said section, it is mandatory upon the Judge to make the inquiry at least once a year, and to take action accordingly. * * * This duty was imposed upon him because of the inability of infants having estates to take care of them. The State makes the County Court its fiscal agent, to confide such estates to the custody of prudent and safe persons. It seems to us, to be sound, that, if the law enjoins upon the County Judge a duty like this, although leaving a discretion as to how it should be done, and he fails to do it, he and his sureties on his official bond are responsible for the damage that follows such failures.

And it is equally clear, that, if he makes the inquiry as indicated above, and it should cause him, as a person of ordinary judgement, to believe that the sureties were insolvent or in failing circumstances, and he failed to require additional security of the guardian, whereby damage has ensued to the ward, he and his sureties should be held responsible therefor. The duty to thus require additional security, under the circumstances named, is as positively enjoined as is that of making the inquiry. But if, upon such inquiry made as above indicated, he as a man of ordinary judgment, is deceived as to the solvency of the sureties, he should not be held responsible. Also, if, at any time, he, as a man of ordinary judgment, has cause to believe that the sureties are insolvent or in failing circumstances, he fails to require of the guardian additional security, whereby damage is sustained by the ward, he and his sureties are responsible.

As said, the estate of the infant is under the special protection of the State, and the County Judge is made its fiscal agent to provide for its protection by appointing a substitute person to be the custodian of the estate, and require of him security that he will faithfully discharge the trust; and, owing to the frequent loss of such estates by the reckless conduct of the guardian or subsequent insolvency of the sureties, the Legislature enjoined the foregoing duties upon the County Judge.

And to hold that they are purely judicial, and the judge is not liable on his bond except for a malicious or corrupt abuse of discretion, would defeat the salutary object in view; but to hold that the duty is enjoined by law and for the failure to perform such duty, or for a failure to exercise in the performance of such duty as much judgment and discretion as a person of ordinary judgment and discretion should exercise, similarly situated, whereby damage to the ward ensues, he and his sureties are liable on his bond, would meet the object the Legislature had in view.

THE Kentucky Central's new time-card, which will go into effect next Sunday, will, it is understood, make several important changes. Nothing definite has been learned, but it is said that under the new schedule the morning train will leave here at 6:30 o'clock, and the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Their time of arrival here has not been learned.

THE police at Lexington had instructions last Sunday to enforce the law closing saloons. The Daily Press says the coffee houses were closed, and that tipplers walked the city over trying to find some place to quench their thirst. The Transcript, however, tells a different tale, and says the police court had the usual number of drunks and disorderlies to dispose of Monday morning.

MR. HIRAM CHENOWETH and Miss Bessie Pratt were married at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at Washington City. The bride is a daughter of Dr. Pratt, and has been one of the charming and accomplished young ladies of the Nation's capital. The groom, who is the only son of Major and Mrs. T. J. Chenoweth, has been engaged in business at Birmingham for several years. The newly wedded will make their home at Birmingham.

He was brought down last evening by his father, who left on the F. F. V. for Portsmouth, en route to their home back in Ohio. The young fellow has become so violent that he had to be shackled to prevent his doing himself and his friends any injury.

OHIO MINE OPERATORS.
They Withdraw from the Interstate Agreement Recently Made.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 12.—The interstate agreement of operators and miners is again broken. Ex-Congressman Amos Townsend, of Cleveland, has notified Alexander Dempster, of Pittsburgh, president of the last interstate convention, that the Ohio operators will withdraw from the agreement. This was the information conveyed in a telegram to one of the officers of the United Miners, at Columbus, from Mr. Dempster yesterday.

The move is regarded as a trick of the Ohio operators to force a strike in Pennsylvania and throw the entire lake coal trade to the Ohio operators. The miners of Ohio have been asked to meet the operators for the purpose of fixing the price of mining for Ohio independent of other states. The Ohio miners ask an advance of seven and one-half cents and Pennsylvania miners an advance of sixteen cents per ton on run of mine.

The failure of natural gas has led the Pittsburgh miners to believe the improvement in the trade warrants their demand. Ohio operators think the Pittsburgh operators will not concede, and that by withdrawing from the agreement and making a state scale they will get the upper hand. The miners will not agree to have any sectional agreement, and if there is a scale it will provide for all the states, otherwise there will be one of the biggest strikes ever inaugurated in this country.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.
What Was Done in Both the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—After routine business the house yesterday went into committee of the whole on the legislative appropriation bill. In the general debate Mr. McAdoo, of New Jersey, spoke in opposition to the shipping bill, and Mr. Stockdale, of Mississippi, referred to violations of the civil service law. No action was taken on the bill and the house adjourned.

The senate agreed to a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for a list of persons or firms by whom silver had been offered, under the act of July 14, 1890, a list of those from whom silver had been purchased, the amounts and prices, the basis on which an estimate is made of the market price of silver and the amounts and prices of silver bullion purchased outside of the United States.

The conference report on the Roanoke, Va., public building, reducing the cost from $100,000 to $75,000, was agreed to. Several small bills were passed, after which the consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed.

After three hours' discussion the amendment offered by Mr. Allen, fixing Port Orchard on Puget sound as the site for a dry dock was agreed to. It appropriates $25,000 for a site and $700,000 for the building of a dry dock.

Several committee amendments were adopted and the bill passed. The District of Columbia appropriation bill was reported and placed on the calendar. The copyright bill was taken up but laid aside informally. A number of bills were taken from the calendar and passed and the senate at 5:30 adjourned.

JAPANESE GIRLS SOLD AT AUCTION.
Infamous Practices Said to Be Carried On in San Francisco.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Henry Slocum, of Pekin, China, now at the Palmer house, tells of an experience he had in San Francisco recently. He was invited by a friend to attend "a sale of some choice Japs," and thinking Japanese bric-a-brac was meant, readily accepted. Arriving at the place, he found several well-known citizens in the parlor. A raised platform stood at one end of the room.

"Suddenly," said Mr. Slocum, "the folding doors in the apartment were thrown open, and through them came about twenty young Japanese girls. The girls were auctioned off at prices varying from $10 to $500 a piece. The girls had been enticed from Japan by unscrupulous wretches, with promises of easy and remunerative employment. Such sales occur every month or two, but nothing is done to prevent them."

WILL RETIRE FROM THE WORLD.
Miss Kate Drexel Will Hereafter Be Known as Sister Mary Katharine.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 12.—To-day Miss Kate Drexel, the Philadelphia heiress, will retire from the world. In her stead the rich woman will be known as Sister Mary Katharine, mother superior of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, which Miss Drexel's constant devotions and money have founded.

Eminent Catholic dignitaries will be present, but the services will be marked by the absence of the near relations of Miss Drexel. Her only living sister, now in ill health in Florida, cannot attend. Arc' Bishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, will receive and answer the nun's irrevocable vows.

Mistaken for Burglars.
PORTSMOUTH, O., Feb. 12.—Last night Thomas Dellert, assistant manager, and Will Huddleston, a Western Union messenger boy, were shot by Tennessee Slater, at the residence of Sam J. Huston. It was very dark, and the boys, endeavoring to deliver a message, were taken for burglars and shot at through a window with a double-barreled shotgun and buckshot being used. Dellert was seriously injured.

Suit to Break a Will.
NORWALK, O., Feb. 12.—James C. Lockwood, banker and vessel owner of Milan, O., left an estate of $800,000 a few months ago. The will provided for his wife and 12-year-old son, also for more than a dozen relatives. A codicil withdrew the $300,000 from relatives and gave it to his son. Suit to break the codicil has been begun.

New Engine Wrecked.
OMAHA, Feb. 12.—A new Union Pacific engine, just out of the shops, jumped the track at the foot of Farnam street yesterday, and fell over on its side crushing and killing Jacob Jersey, the engineer, and severely injuring William Martin, a car tagger, and William Hayes, a switchman. The fireman escaped without injury.

Cosy on an Ice Cake.

After a tough three hours' struggle with death John Opfer came out ahead, and he was full of joy. Opfer is an employee of the West Jersey Ferry company, and is fond of skating. He was enjoying this exhilarating sport on the Delaware at the head of Third street, between the Camden shore and Petty's island, Saturday, when he struck a weak spot in the ice and broke through. The current dragged him down and he became benumbed.

When he arose to the surface Opfer was in the midst of the broken ice floating rapidly up stream, and he made a frantic effort to save himself. He seized several cakes of ice, but they sank under his weight and sent him again and again beneath the surface. He cried loudly for help, but he was so far from either shore and the floating ice was so heavy that no one dared to attempt his rescue.

At last Opfer, his strength almost gone, managed to climb upon an ice floe, where he fell exhausted. His struggles had been witnessed by two men on Petty's island, and as the floe drifted up toward the point they pushed off in their boat at the risk of their own lives, and pulled the unconscious Opfer off the ice.

After a hard fight the boatmen managed to make the island again, and they carried Opfer into the little dwelling house that stands there. He had been struggling with ice for an hour, and gave no sign of life when efforts to resuscitate him began. After two hours' hard work, however, Opfer opened his eyes, and at last was brought out of death's grasp entirely.

"I thought I was a goner, sure enough," said Opfer yesterday, "when I found myself banging away at those cakes of ice. Geerozalum, but I was cold! Then all of a sudden I got warm and cozy and settled down for a nap. My! but it was nice till those men on the island woke me up."—Philadelphia Record.

Was with Napoleon.

One of the last of Napoleon's veterans, and naturally one of the very few survivors among the officers of the Grand Armee, has celebrated his ninety-seventh birthday in his retreat at Herblay, on the banks of the Seine. M. Soufflot, who is extremely popular in that part of the country, loves to fight his battles over again. He took part in the campaigns of 1812 and the three following years, and before Napoleon went to Elba he was promoted to the rank of captain.

He was a stalwart imperialist, and after the downfall of his hero he refused to serve under any other regime, and was put upon half pay, but he emerged for a short time from his retirement to command a squadron of lancers of the Old Guard at Waterloo. After the final collapse of the emperor he left the army for good, at the age of 22, and spent the following half century of his life in civil employment. He then "pitched his tent," to use his own expression, at Herblay, where he is held in high esteem for his many acts of kindness. M. Soufflot is said to be the doyen of the members of the Legion of Honor.—London Telegraph.

Old Church Records Recovered.

Ex-Governor Charles H. Bell has restored to the First Congregational church of Exeter, N. H., a valuable record book, discovered by him in the shop of a local dealer in antiquities. It is a small manuscript volume containing a record of the 727 baptisms administered by the Rev. Woodbridge Odlin between Sept. 28, 1743, and Oct. 30, 1763. The book also contains a few miscellaneous items, of which this is the most important:

"Nov. 18, 1755. About four o'clock in the morning there was a smart shock of an earthquake, which was followed with several smaller shocks, to the great surprise of many. God grant ye impressions yet were made upon ye minds of many might be abiding."

The handwriting is handsome and very legible, and the book is remarkably well preserved. It fills an important gap in the early records of the church, whose age is coincident with that of the town.—Boston Herald.

Tracing Missent Mail.

The postmaster of Philadelphia has invented a device whereby he expects to be able to trace missent and delayed mail matter. It consists of a small stamp to be worn on the thumb of a sorter. It is an automatic inker, and every time a letter passes through his hands for sorting the mere act of handling it will put on it a postmark. If each clerk has a number that number will go with the stamp, and a delayed or missent letter will be traceable thereby direct to the actual blunderer. In his own office Mr. Field is getting his patent into use, and if it works as expected it is probable the whole service will adopt it. While it will be somewhat of a nuisance in some respects, it will be welcome to efficient sorters, as it will protect innocent men from being credited with the blunders of others.—Interview in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Pete Jackson in Training.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Pete Jackson, the colored pugilist, is in San Francisco training for the fight with Corbett and has been here several weeks. There is no truth in the purported interview with Jackson sent from Vandalia, Ill., saying that he was tired of prize fighting and intended to quit.

High License Wins in North Dakota.
BISMARCK, N. Dak., Feb. 12.—After a fierce fight in the house yesterday the high license men won, and the proposition to resubmit the prohibition question was carried—32 to 29. It is believed the senate will also pass the measure immediately.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1-bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.
